The Verbier: A Masterclass in Tropical Modernism at Panther National Where Architectural Art Meets Championship Living Experience a residence that transcends the ordinary. The Verbier, a sculptural masterpiece designed by the world-renowned firm Strang Design, represents the pinnacle of ultra-modern living within the exclusive enclave of Panther National Country Club. Commanding a rare dual vista of shimmering lake waters and the meticulously manicured emerald fairways, this estate is a testament to the "Strang" philosophy of environmental integration and indoor-outdoor fluidity. An Architectural Statement Spanning an impressive 9,073 total square feet (with 6,235 square feet under air), the home's silhouette is defined by clean horizontal lines, organic textures, and expansive glass. The heart of the residence is a voluminous 23x28-foot great room, featuring soaring ceilings that dissolve the boundaries between the interior sanctuary and the South Florida landscape.
